

Adaptive Finite Element Computation of Electromagnetic Problems

Zhiming Chen, Professor

State Key Laboratory of Scientific/Engineering Computing,
Institute of Computational Mathematics and Scientific/Engineering Computing,
Academy of Mathematics and Systems Science, Chinese Academy of Sciences,
Zhong Guan Cun Donglu 55, Beijing, 100190, P.R. China,

ABSTRACT

We report our recent efforts in solving Maxwell equations by adaptive finite element methods based on a posteriori error estimates. We will consider the eddy current model with voltage excitations for complicated three dimensional structures and also a new anisotropic PML method for electromagnetic scattering problems.